Bush sweeps to victory

VASHINGTON, Nov 9, Republican Agencies): George Bush rode a swell of peace and prosperity to pecome 41st President of the Jnited States and he vowed o work with a Democratic Congress that could seek evenge for one of the harsh-. st campaigns in recent times. Bush defeated Democrat vichael Dukakis decisively yeserday, taking 40 of the 50 states against 10 and the District of Columbia won by his rival and lepriving the Massachusetts governor of the upset win he had loped for.

Democrats retain control of Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov9, (Agencies): Democrats, boosted by the power of incumbency, retained control of the I01st Congress to no one's surprise yesterday and are not likely to grant George Bush thuch of a honeymoon when he assumes the presidency.

Bush pledged to 'domy best to reach out and work constructively" with Congress, hut since retaking the Senate two years ago, Democrats have been flexing their muscle on Capitol Hill with their own agenda.

And the continued presence in the Senate of Lloyd Bentsen, Democrat-Texas, the unsuccessful Democratic vice presidential candidate, may present Bush with a formidable obstacle. Possibility

HH the Crown Prince and Prime Minister of Kuwait Sheikh Saad Al Abdullah today said "terror-ism exists whether we like it or not," but stressed that Kuwait will not succumh to it.

In a press conference at the conclusion of his official visit to Saudi Arabia, Sheikh Saad said terrorist acts against Kuwait's vital interests are aimed at changing the country's policies.

"Kuwait will not change its policies, and will work now and in the future to reject such pres-sures," the Crown Prince added.

Praised

Sheikh Saad also called for drawing a clear distinction between just struggles for independence and terrorism, which he said will not be tolerated. He denied that Kuwait has sought foreign protection.

He praised the existing security co-operation among member states of the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC) saying that officials of these states are co-operating in fighting "evil elements."

"We in Kuwait look for more in this respect," he added. Sheikh Saad said GCC countries should co-ordinate their efforts to serve the best interests of their people.

Discussing his talks with Saudi officials, the Crown Prince said they were characterised by the spirit of fraternity, understand-ing, and the genuine desire for cooperation.

In response to a question, Sheikh Saad said the Saudi-Kuwaiti agreement on the divided border area was the result of collective efforts and a true desire to co-operate with the Saudi hrothers to "abort opportunities for ill-willed people.

Israel tried to kill Arafat

TUNIS, Nov 9, (UPI): Palestine Liberation Organisation leader Yasser Arafat, speaking shortly before an Arah newspaper published a report of a mysterious attack on one of his aides, disclosed that Israel tried to assassinate him recently.

"The Israelis have been trying to kill me for long time," Arafat told a group of four Western reporters at his Tunis nerve centre last night.

"(Ariel) Sharon and (Yitzhak) Shamir have tried again recently," the PLO cheif said. "That is why our Tunisian brothers have taken security measures and we are grateful to them."

Security in the neighbourhood where the PLO has its offices was extraordinarily tight. Tunisian police manned roadhlocks on the approaches and carefully searched visitors.

The Kuwaiti daily Al Seyassah reported today that senior Arafal aide Bassam Ahu Sharif escaped an assassination attempt outside his home in Tunis on Monday night.

Arafat made no reference to a direct attack on Abu Sharif, who aiready survived a letter bomh attack in the past. But Arafat confirmed a recent statement hy Ahu Sharif that "Israel groups have prepared terrorist actions against the leaders and institutions of the PLO."

Gdansk shipyard strikes collapse

GDANSK, Poland, Nov 9, (Reuter): Young Solidarity militants today called off strikes at two Gdansk shipvards after failing to win support from other shipyard workers.

The stoppages at the Wisla and repair yards collapsed after only 24 hours.

They were staged by workers demanding re-legalisation of Solidarity and revocation of a Polish government decision to shut the Lenin shipyard where the banned union was born.

"Nobody has joined us. We have to finish," an 18-year-old striker said, taking down red-and-white Polish flags emhlazoned with the word Solidarity from the gate of the repair yard and rolling them up.

Promised

"We counted on others joining us but no one did," he added. He said only about 100 strikers stayed overnight in the yard which employs 5,800 men. About 500 began the sit-in stoppage at mid-day yesterday.

About 30 young workers earlier called off a similar protest at the Wisla yard which employs 900 men. They said they decided to leave after management promised to reinstate men sacked after a strike last August. The collapse of the protests ended a brief revolt by Solidarity radicals against union leader Lech Walesa, which erupted yesterday when he backed off from a threat to call nationwide strikes against the Lenin shipyard shut-

About 50 police stood near the gate of the Wisla yard and police vehicles waited outside the repair yard as the protests ended but police took no action.

Appeared

Walesa, who has called the Lenin shipyard shutdown an attack on Solidarity's most symbolic stronghold, refused yesterday to call out the yard's 11,000 men, saying the time was not ripe for strikes.

Some observers believed he backed off knowing he would get little support for a nationwide strike call and because the gov-ernment of Prime Minister Micczyslaw Rakowski appeared to be itching for a showdown.

Walesa instead denounced the young strikers for defying his authority. He threatened to resign, saying their action was a warning that a new generation of workers could run out of control.

The veteran Solidarity leader appeared to be telling the goverment that young workers were increasingly restless and radicalised because of the refusal to make concessions to Solidarity, and that he might be unable to control them.

Young militants expressed bitterness when Walesa called off Poland's second strike wave of the year last August, after the authorities invited Solidarity to talks on Poland's future and promised to consider re-legalis-ing the union. Many young strikers were suspicious of government intentions and Walesa had difficulty in persuading them to go back to work.

Iraq and Iran to swap some POWs on Nov 20

GENEVA, Nov 9, (UPI): Iran and Iraq agreed today to allow the International Red Cross to begin exchangiog all 1,526 registered sick and wounded prisoners of war nn Nov 20.

Other wounded but so far unregistered POWs will be counted in the meantime and flown home hy Dec 11, the twn sides said in separate media statements.

The International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC), guardian of the 1949 Geneva War Cunventinus, got the two sides to agree on the limited POW repatriation in talks separate from the UN-sponsored Gulf peace negntiations.

First news of the exchange was given to reporters by Iraqi Fnreign Minister Tareo Aziz after talks with United Natinns mediatnr Jan Eliasson.

Eliasson welcomed the news. Asked by reporters if it could unblock the printracted Gulf peace talks here he said: "Anything that would improve the elimate and increase confidence between the parties would be to the good of the process.

BAHRAIN DIGEST

Water officials to meet

GULF countries will be holding an important meeting in Bahrain today to discuss the water shortage in the region.

Representatives from Gulf Co-operation Council (GCC) water boards will attend the general assembly of the Water Sciences and Technology Association. The association was formed a year ago and is based in Bahrain.

The meeting will be held under the patronage of Majid Al Jishì, Bahrain's Minister of Works, Power and Water.

According to authorities here, one of the aims of the assembly is to promote closer co-operation between Gulf states in tackling the water shortage problem. This could be achieved by sharing information on new technology.

A board will also be elected by the representatives to serve the association for the next four years.

No new American Mideast initiative soon

By Carol Glacomo

WASHINGTON, [Reuterl: Right-wing gains in Israel's election make it increasingly likely there will be no fresh US peace initiatives in the Middle East at least until after a new American president takes office in January. US analysts say.

Ahoul all the (Reagan) administration can do over the next few months is conduct soundings and hold hands," said Charles William Maynes, editor of foreign policy magazine.

That might have been different if (Shimon) Peres had won." he told Reuters.

Tuesday's general clection failed to give a clear majority to cither Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir's right-wing Likud or Foreign Minister Peres' centreleft Labour Party and hoth rushed to court religious parties who hold the balance of power. Government Shamir and many analysts gave Likud the edge in forming a government but US State Department officials, who declined to be quoted by name, adamantly refused to make any assumptions.

"tt may take weeks or even longer" before the government takes shape and "it's not safe to assume anything," one official said firmly He said it was possible the religious parties, which are specifically concerned with domestic issues, could align with Peres. As to other proclivities on the peace process, he said there was "no clear cut picture on that" just yet,

Concessions

The Israeli election was fought largely on war and peace issues against the background of an 11-month-old Palestinian uprising in the Israeli-occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip.

Rough roads make life uneasy for Ugandans

By David Ress

KAMPALA, (Rcuter): The best stretches of road between Uganda's two largest towns are the parts where there is no tarmac.

The 80 km (50 mile) stretch from the capital Kampala to Jinja, on the shores of Lake Victoria, forms part of the northern corridor, a road and railway linking the Kenyan port of Mombasa to Uganda and other landlocked East African countries.

The corridor is Uganda's lifeline and virtually the only link to the outside world for neighbouring Rwanda, southern Sudan and castern Zaire, It also carries traffic for Burundi. But Uganda's relations with Kenya have often been tense and it is now looking to lessen its dependence on dilapidated roads and border controls in Kenya. East Africa's most industrialised nation. The border was closed for two weeks last December after clashes along the frontier. "It used to be so easy. But

Bush: long on experience, short on new ideas

WASHINGTON, (Reuter): George Bush, a self-styled Texan with Yankee aristocrat roots, who was elected the 41st president of the United States on Tuesday, prepared for the presidency with a quarter-cen-tury in politics, long government service and eight years' appren-ticeship to Ronald Reagan.

This seasoning in hardknuckle politics may prove to bave been the biggest 1988 campaign asset for the trim, 64-yearold vice-president. He started out well bebind Democrat Michael Dukakis but attacked him aggressively in wbat many eonsider the nastiest US presidential contest in modern

He mixed attacks on Dukakis with claims that his own experience in the White House, the CIA and other power centres qualified him uniquely to lead America into the 1990s as Reagan's success

In eampaign speeches, interviews and debates, be said he would eut huge federal deficits, seen by many Americans as the nation's most pressing problem, through a vaguely-defined "flexible freeze" on government spending.

Pressures He promised voters that, regardless of deficit-cutting pressures, there would be no new taxes. He vowed to lead a renaissance of US education and to clean up the environment.

And he pledged to press on with arms control talks with the Soviet Union, placing new stress on cutting conventional forces and achieving a global ban on ebemical weapons.

"Bush knows more about the inner workings of government than Reagan does," a White House official said. "He will take generally the same track but be a better manager." Bush's victory, however, may leave a bitter aftertaste among voters repelled by the ugiy tone of the campaign.

Bush, who accepted the Republican nomination vowing to make America a "kinder, gentler nation," bammered Massaehusetts governor Dukakis day after day as a big-spending.

He ridiculed Dukakis as "a card-carrying member" of the American Civil Liberties Union, as if that were something to be big-taxing liberal, weak on defence, crime and drugs.

He scolded his rival for oppos-ing compulsory recitation of the Pledge of Allegiance in Massachusetts schools, a taunt that appeared to call the governor's patriotism into question. Dukakis in turn slammed Bush as an elitist champion of the rich. He accused him of fatally flawed judgement and cited his choice of Indiana Senator Dan Quayle as a running mate, his support for the Iran arms sale and his contacts with Panama's Manuel Antonio Noriega, under drug indictment in the United States. He said Busb lied about the Dukakis record.

For eight years Bush was the loyal number two to a president who had led a modern conservative revival in US politics. An athletic and youthfullooking man, he is fond of jogging, fishing and fast boats. Although his official voting address is

War II. Ambassador

Before serving as vice-president be had been a US amhassador to the United Nations, envoy to China, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, Congressman from Texas and Republican Party chairman.

But it was the vice-presidency and the association with Reagan that launched him toward his ultimate goal.

Unlike most other presidents, who thought vice-presidents were best ignored, Reagan gave Bush a number of highly visible and significant diplomatic

Bush had contested Reagan for the Republican nomination that year, presenting himself as the moderate alternative to a right-winger wbo - in Bush's memorable phrase — preached a "voodoo economics" of lower taxes and huge defence outlays.

As vice-president, Busb embraced those policies enthusiastically and distinguished himself as a loyal - some critics said too loyal - player in the Reagan team. Beginning with his calm, unofficial assumption of some of Reagan's public duties when the president was wounded by a would-be assassin in March 1981, be quietly became a friend and confident of the conservative Reagan.

Although widely viewed as a political moderate through most of his career to that point, Bush as vice-president became a staunch defender of Reagan's right-wing policies.

One prominent conservative columnist accused him of being Reagan's "lapdog" and others derided his deferential style.

In a controversial book about his White House years, former presidential spokesman Larry Speakes said of Bush: "Seldom did I hear him speak up, either in cabinet meetings or private sessions ... I never heard him say, "Mr President, my advice to you would be "this is the wrong thing

Bush backed Reagan's unpopular 1985 decision to sell US arms to Iran but insisted he did not view the deal as a trade of arms for bostages held by pro-Iranian groups in Lebanon.

Success bas been a near constant in Bush's life.

The son of an investment banking heiress and a Wall Street financier who became a US senator, Bush spent much of his youth in Greenwich, Connecticut, a prosperous New York city suburb, and at the summer bome in Maine.

He attended exclusive private schools and graduated from Yale University with highest bonours in economics in 1948. He also captained the Yale baseball

Bush's political campaigns. After the war, be rejected a Wall Street job and moved to Texas where be started an oil drilling firm that made him a

He began his climb to national prominence by winning elections to the House of Representatives from Texas in 1966 and 1968. But be failed in two bids at a Texas senate seat, beaten once by rising young Democrat Lloyd Bentsen vice-presidential candidate on the 1988 Democratic ticket.

Hard-line In his Texas campaigns, Bush often voiced bard-line conservative views, including opposition to the landmark 1964 Civil Rights Act that banned racial discrimination in public facilities, and the Nuclear Test Ban Treaty. But as a Congressman he angered many of his con-servative backers by voting for a bill designed to end discrimination in housing. He also supported the Viet-nam war effort, catching the eye of President Richard Nixon who named him ambassador to the United Nations in 1971.

Two years later, Nixon named Bush to be Republican Party ehairman, a hot seat in an era when the Watergate scandal was mushrooming into a nightmare that drove Nixon out of office.

Some felt Bush carried party loyalty too far, backing Nixon's protestations of impocence late into the affair.

After Nixon's resignation in 1974, Bush was selected by President Ford to head the US liaisón office in China in 1974-75 and then to direct the scandalplagued CIA-in 1976-77.

He was credited with reforming the CIA and rebuilding its morale when it was reeling from disclosures that it had spied on American citizens at home and backed assassination plots against such foreign leaders as Cuba's Fidel Castro.

"He's not going to bave any mandate at all," says former Democratic White House press secretary George Reedy. "He hasn't campaigned for anything other than to save the country from Dukakis."

In fact, it seems likely that the eountry's domestie policy agenda will be set by Congress, just as it was in the final years of Reagan's presidency when the legislators repeatedly ignored the chief executive's desires. According to congressional quarterly, Reagan's position prevailed on just 43.5 per cent of roll-call votes in 1987, the last year for which figures have been compiled. It was the first time in 25 years a President lost more Reagan won on 82 per cent of roll call votes in 1981, his first year in office, after a campaign in which he set forth a specifie agenda with a vow to cut taxes and raise defence spending. Bush's ties to the popular Reagan, who will leave office with the highest approval rating of any President since Dwight Eisenhower 28 years ago, were instrumental to his victory.

Polls showed Bush's popularity moving in tandem with his political patron's throughout the campaign. An NBC television exit poll of voters yesterday said the president-elect had the backing of 86 per cent of those who approved of Reagan's performance in the Oval Office.

Who then in 1992?

For starters, Jesse Jackson is certain to make another, a third run, for the Democratic presidential nomination and chances are that any other plans by any other candidates will not affect his personal ambition. But if Bush managed to paint Dukakis as a liberal to such a degree that the nominee would not even admit it until the final two weeks of the campaign, what would be do with Jackson? By comparison to Jackson, Dukakis certainly is a moderate or a centr-

High hopes for the festive season

DIWALI and Dusserah are one of the most important festivals in India bringing in the spirit of fun and celebratioo." Film producers also prepare their more ambitions projects to release them in time for Diwali, which is celebrated all over India by all communities and creeds. Morever, it is also the time wheo schools and colleges have a sbort vacation, and thus more time for films. Christmas and New Year are oot far behind.

This year, too, many films have been lined up for the last two months of the year and many heroes are in the race to gain high popularity with the public. The biggest film (at least by way of size and cost) is Manmohan Desai's Ganga, Saraswati, with Jamuna, Amitabh, Mithun, Jaya Prada, Meenakshi

It is Amitahh's second release after the debacle of Shahenshah and thus an acid test for him. Desai confidently predicts that: "this film of mine will beat Amar, Akbar, Anthony and score much more.

One cannot be sure of that, since it does not have three heroes, hut only two heroes and one heroine in the title, and the other herome is left dangling in the air. But one is never sure about magiciao Manmohan. He can turn heroes into parrots and conjure double and triple

Among other escapist films with stars and frills are Main Tera Dushman, Vardi, Gharana, Santosh, Billoo Badshah and Agnee to be followed by many others.

Maio Tera Dushman is a typical South Indian pot pourri directed by Vijay Reddi for the Midas mao K.C. Bokadia. Jackie Shroff will be trying his luck, perhaps for the last time, and be has tough competitioo from Sunny, Jaya Prada and even Sridevi, all in the same film. It is also in direct contrast to Desai's movie, with the female side strooger. Umesh Mehra's Vardi is loosely based on An Officer & A Gentleman; with Jackie and Sunny as rivals for Kimi's love, with Madhuri in the second role and papa Dharm provid-ing a boost for Sunny with a special appearance.

Gharana and Billoo Badshah are typical family tales of joys and sorrows. K. Ravi Shankar's Gharana has Rishi Kapoor, Meenakshi, Govinda, Neelam and Jaya Prada in a guest role. Billoo Badshah is Shatrughan Sinha's one-man show aided by Anita Raj. Govioda, Neelam and also Archoa Joglekar as the hanghty new daughter-in-law who upsets'the even keel of the middle class family. J. Om Prakash's Agnee has star power with the likes of Mithuo, Amrita Singh, Chunky, Mandakini and it is J. Om's bid to be on par with his more successful son-in-law Raakesh Roshan. If J. Om again fails, then perhaps there may be a split in the banners and offices they have been using jointly for years.

Threatening Also threatening to break oew ground is old Manoj's latest film Santosh which has taken eleven years to complete. This time, the patriot hero has turned ioto a trade unioo leader. The story has a woman deserting her husband and son for money and power. The soo becomes an idealist who fights for workers' rights, while he is betrayed by his own brother. Love and songs are of course mixed through the roles of Hema, Shatru, Sarika etc. The message is of cootentment Indrajeet, Rudra, Hum, Ghar Ka Bhedi, Mahakaal, Aali-shan, Tiger, Baghi and untitled films of half a dozen producers. Dharmendra comes close to Amit, with more films but ool chosen so selectively. Among his hig ones are Hathyar, Batwara, Ganga Tere Desh Mein, Hamlaa, Jagira, Naakabandi, Sherdil, Sikka, Mast Qalandar, Kaun Kare Kurbani, Nafrat Ki Aandhi, Shehzade & Farishte. From the old era heroes, Jeetendra is also surviviog on the same level. He is banking a lot on New Delhi which is an off-beat film due for release. But he has plenty of commercîal ooes too, like Mar Mitenge Mulzim, Nafrat Ki Aandhi Sahara, Daav Pech, Hasti Mita Dunga, Jai Shiv Shankar, Kasam Vardi Ki, Souten Ki Beti, Asoolon Ki Jung, Aas-man Se Ooncha, Ranbhoomi, Zehreeley, Atal Irada, Antim Yudh and others.

Mithun is the only one from the new age group who is bid-ding for the top with at least 25 active films. They include Aakhri Ghulam, Agnec, Agnecepath, Boss Saal Baad, Daata, Dana Paoi, Guru, Dharam Sankat, Gariboh Ka Daata, Hum Intezar Karenge Hum Se Na Takrana, Ilaaka, Jhooti Shaan, Mar Mitenge, Shandar, Galiyoo Ka Bad-shah, Jung, Sadhu Saot, Yugandhar, Pyar Ka Karz, Prahar etc. Commanding a high price and fan following is of course Vinod Khanna, His imposiog list has Batwara, Boss, Mahadeva, Marg, Lekio, Rakshak, Shatruta, Ustad Surya, Farishte, Garjana, Surzameen, Zameen, Chamatkar, etc. These heroes are followed by the many films held by Shatrughao Sinha, Anil Kapoor, Suojay Dutt, Govinda, Rishi Kapoor, Raj Babbar, Chunky and a few others. A GROUP of us was having lunch the other day when Beeman came hurrying in. He was flushed with what seemed like

"I think I've got it," he exclaimed.

"What is that?" "I just made an appointment with my daughter. I haven't been able to see her for two months, but she informed me that she could fit me in at 6 o'clock on Thursday." That's neat," I said.

"How did you do it?" "It wasn't easy. I kept leaving messages at her dorm saying that I would be grateful to simply meet with ber and talk over hov things were going.

"The first time she turned me down was because she was going to Vermont to look at the leaves. The second time she actually made a date with me, hut then canceled it as she had been invited to wash her boyfriend's car. And three weeks ago, she called to say that she couldn't see me on her birthday because she wanted to enter a 26-mile marathon where you could meet a lot of neat guys."

"How can you be sure that sbe will show up for the appointment she's made now?" I wanted to know.

"You're a lucky man, Beeman," one of the group said. "I haven't been able to arrange a meeting with my son for two years. He's one husy fellow.

They all are," Beeman said. "And you can't fault them for refusing to put us on their calendars. You know what's really funny. I wanted to talk to George Shultz the other day, and it was arranged in an hour. I called Lee Iacocca and he said he would see me as soon as I arrived. Its been like that all month. The only one I am unable to make contact with is my own flesh and hlood."

"What are you planning to talk about when you do see her?" I inquired.

"I am going to ask her if she loves me. And if she says she does, I'll start to wonder why she doesn't answer the calls I leave on her answering machine. I'll try to find out if I'm the father sbe really wanted."

"I wouldn't do that," one of the men said. "You'll only make ber feel guilty.

Beeman remarked, "If I could make her feel guilty I would consider our meeting a big success."
"Have you decided what

BUYING books can be a problem for the expatriate; not only are good bookshops few and far between in many countries, hut the prices they ask for their hooks are often prohibuve.

One becomes accustomed to paying over the odds for a wide range of products while living oversens — and, conversely, to paying relatively low prices for some consumer goods — hut when the dinar, dirham, or riyal price on a book is more than twice the original UK or US cover price one can't help feeling that someone, somewhere, is making more than a reasonahle level of profit.

After all, books - unlike newspapers and periodicals do not need to be airfreighted and, as anyone who has ever had occasion to ship personal effects from one country to another will know, sea freight rates (based on volume rather than weight) can be surprising-

In short, nobody has ever managed to convince me that shipping costs justify the high price of books in the bookshops in the Middle East.

There can certainly be no question of high staff salaries being used as a justification for the doubling of a cover price: even in the UK, where many bookshop staff are university graduates, levels of pay in this sector have traditionally been very low. Moreover, many of the bookshop staff I've encountered in the Middle East were certainly not of graduate calibre -- some, I suspect, were not even literate.

I recall one occasion in Dubai when, totally confused hy the apparent lack of organisation on a hookshop's shelves, I thought I'd test the system hy asking for the works of some reasonably well-known author.

"Shakespeare?" the assistant repeated uncertainly; "I don't know." This, as it turned out, was a masterpiece of understatement: it wasn't merely a case of his not knowing where the Shakespeare was to be found; he'd never even heard of Shakespeare and the limit of his knowledge of English was the phrase he'd used on me — "I don't know.'

So what was he doing working in an English language bookshop then, you're proba-hly wondering? Well, of course, the answer — when I pursued the matter — was obvious: he was someone's cousin.

(Which reminds me of the case of a manager who, deputising for a colleague who was on leave, seized the opportunity to sack an entire group of workers and replace them with what must have been virtually every able-bodied male in his own

Before arriving in the Gulf I'd always bought a couple of books every week hut, in the end, the high prices of the Gulf's bookshops drove me to that most estimable of institutions — the British Council

Quite apart from the cost of books and the difficulty of finding your way around the shelves, there is also the matter of selection. Some Gulf bookshops always seem to be full of the remainders of the world's most obscure publishing com-

There is no doubt that some pretty sharp salesmen have managed to dump some real worst sellers in the Gulf over the years — particularly in the non-fiction field.

Think of the most comically arcane Utle you can imagine and it's a safe bet that the book really does exist and that copies of it have been gathering dust on the shelves of a Gulf book-

At the other extreme, a bookshop may find itself lumbered with books that it could sell but daren't: I recall one instance where a Gulf bookshop found itself with several thousand pornographic paperbacks on its hands. There was no quesslunk back into town.

So, to this day, somewhere huried in the dunes outside a Gulf city, there is a cache of the most lurid pornographic literature just waiting to be discovered. Who knows, perhaps in years to come the books may be discovered, eausing archaeologists to hotly debate the significance of such an extraordinary find.

T've often wondered how it was that the sale of such magazines ever came to be permitted in a Gulf state and who the target customers were. Since the vast majority of peo-ple flying from or transiting the airport must have been totally unaware of the magazine's availability the volume of sales can't have been very high in any case, hut were the purchasers expatriate businessmen, local nationals or perhaps Bangkokbound roisterers looking for something to whet their

One thing is for sure: since many purchasers must have abandoned the magazines on the aircraft, not wanting to try to get them past the customs at whatever Gulf airport they were flying to, passengers boarding flights in the Gulf must have occasionally found the reading matter stuffed into the seat back pouches startlingly different to the normal in-flight fare of articles about falcons, based on logic, not a lucky guess. East's preempt caused a great problem for South. He chose the conservative course of an overcall at the cheapest level. However, when North now came alive to show a hand worth an opening hid, the result was an odds-against slamthere were too many wasted values in clubs.

West led his partner's suit and, since declarer surely had to concede a cluh trick, it might seem that he would have to bank on either a doubleton king or K 10 x (x) of spades with East. Declarer was in no

hurry to commit himself. He won the opening lead with dummy's ace, and ruffed a diamond high. Three rounds of trumps, ending on the table, drew all the opposing cards and revealed that East had been void of that suit. Declarer ruffed dummy's last diamond, then ran the jack of clubs. East took his ace and returned a club, declarer discarding two spaces on dummy's club winners.

When East showed out on the third cluh, his distribution was known: 4-0-7-2. It might seem, therefore, that the percentage play in spades was to lead the jack for a finesse, playing for the spade king to be with the length. But that was impossible-East would never have preempted holding seven diamonds to the 100 honors, four spades to the king and an ace; he would have opened one diamond. So South played for his only chance. He banged down the ace of spades in the hope that West's singleton would be the king, and great was his reward.

QUESTION: I have been taking a water pill for my high blood pressure for a long time. But when I went to my new doctor for the first time, he changed my medication, merely stating that my old pills were "no good." I never had trouble with this medicine, so could you explain why itsbould be changed?

ANSWER: Medicine is constantly changing as we discover new and more effective medications and find out even more about the older ones. Your water pills or diuretic (which promotes the excretion of urine) was probably a chemical called a "thiazide."

For more than 30 years, this class of medications was the first choice in treating hypertension since it was effective for most patients and was inexpensive. However, as time progressed and the results of treating hypertensive patients with thaizide diureties were tahulated, it was noted that although strokes were reduced in these patients, there was no decrease in heart-related disease that also should have diminished. It has been shown that total and lowdensity lipoprotein (LDL) increase in these patients and could be a factor in increasing cardiac disease risk. Since newer drugs now exist that can do the joh of lowering blood pressure and reducing cardiac risks, many physicians are re-evaluating use of this medication by their patients. Thiazide diuretics have been extremely effective for many patients over an extremely long period of time, and some of the less desirable characteristics can be overcome hy simple adjustments in diet, for example. In your case, it would seem that your new physician has decided a change was best for you, a situation that may not be the case in other individuals whose conditions are successfully controlled by water pills. Their doctors may choose not to fix what is not broken. ACROSS MY DESK: The tragedy of AIDS is fearful enough when it strikes the adult population and slowly saps strength and life from a patient. But there is something particularly sad when this disease strikes children. No one is more aware of that than Dr James M. Oleske, Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey at Newark. Dr Oleske has cared for more than 10 pediatric AIDS patients since the first case was diagnosed 10 years ago. As reported in Medical Week, Dr Oleske, addressing the American Academy of Pediatrics Medical and Science Writers Conference, stated that hy 1991, there will be between 10,000 and 20,000 HIV (AIDS) infected children in this country, and the majority will be symptomatic. This would mean that one out of every 10 pediatric beds in the United States would have an AIDS victim occupying it. The costs of care for pediatric AIDS could climb into billions of dollars.

AIDS children contract the disease through transfusion in 15 per cent of the cases and through perinatal exposure in the other 85 per cent of the cases. The mothers become infected through IV drug use and infected sexual partners. Ironically, more than half the mothers are unaware of their own disease until the diagnose of AIDS is established in their infants. 1988 TRIBUNE MEDIA SERVICES, INC.

Saudi Arabian exports up

JEDDAH, Nev 9, (OPECNA): Sandi Arabian exports went up by 16 per cent to over $23 billion during fiscal 1987-88. According to a Saudi Arabian Monetary Agency (SAMA) report. The report released here on Monday said the kingdom's trade surplus rose from $1.06 billion in 1986 to $3.73 billion marking "the first positive growth" in the last three years. The agency attributed the recovery to an increase in oil prices, repatriation of private capital from abroad for despestic investment and the rise in private sector from abroad for domestic investment and the rise in private sector exports. The report said non-oil exports maintained their upward trend, rising by 25 per cent to $2.51 billion. The industrial and agricultural sectors were reported to have registered gains during the year, with wheat production at 2.50 million tons, burley at 250,000 tons. The industrial sector brought in more than $2.13 billion in foreign exchange. In money and banking, SAMA said the increase recorded was 5.4 per cent or $2.29 billion, while currency in circulation and bank deposits accounted for about 15 and 85 per cent respectively of the total increase in money supply during the year. Commercial banks, which opened 37 new branches in the kingdom this year, increased their foreign assets by $4.13 billion to $27.28 billion and their foreign liabilities by $2.72 billion to $6.54 billion. billion to $6.54 billion.

NNPC signs petrochemicals pact

LAGOS, Nov 9, (OPECNA): The Nigerian National Petrole Corporation (NNPC) signed an agreement on Monday with Du Pont of Canada on the construction of a polyethylene plant under the second phase of the Nigerian petrochemical complex. The plant, to be sited in Eleme, will cost $1 billion, about 80 per cent of which is expected to be obtained in loans from the World Bank as well as local and foreign private investors, the Inter-Press Service well as local and foreign private investors, the liner-Press Service (IPS) news agency reported.

Petroleum Resources Minister Alhaji Rilwann Lakman, who signed on behalf of NNPC, said market studies had shown that local demand would be adequately met by the various grades of polyethylene to be produced at the plant. Under the agreement, Du Pont will make its linear polyethylene technology available to Nigeria. Meanwhile, NNPC has also signed a 'licence agreement with the Institut Evenosis Du Potrole for Entenal technology. with the Institut Francais Du Petrole for Butene-1 technology required for the manufacture of linear low-density polyethylene. Lukman said the signing of both agreements marked "a significant milestone in Nigeria's drive to the petrochemical world."

Tulip trade still growing after 400 years

HILLEGOM, The Netherlands, Nov 9, (Reuter): When business gets hectic on the Amsterdam Stock Exchange, dealers might be heard talking about 'Tulip trade'

They are referring to an extranrdinary 17th century episode known as Tulip mania, when speculation in Tulip hulbs became so frenzied in the Netherlands that fortunes were made and lost in a day.

Tulips, national symbol of the Netherlands, are still big business in this country, the world's largest producer and exporter of flower bulbs.

This year the country grew about nine billion bulbs and with an 80 per cent share of the world-was brought to Europe from export market, it earned almost Lurkey in the 16th century.

Tulips are a useful symbol for boosting our country's image abroad, but they also make a significant contribution to the national economy," said Robert van Waveren, president of the International Flowerbulb Centre, which promotes the sale of Dutch bulbs in more than 100 countries

As bulb production increases at home, more than doubling in the last 15 years, Dutch exporters are keenly lnoking for new outlets beyond their traditional market base in Europe and the United States.

Soviets in new soybean meal purchase

WASHINGTON, Nov 9, (AP): The Soviet Union has purchased an additional 300,000 metric tnns nf US soybean meal for delivery this marketing year, the Department Agriculture announced yesterday.

The Soviets last week pur-

Iran, China sign pact on industrial co-operation

TEHRAN, Nnv 9, (OPECNA): Iran and China signed a letter of understanding on industrial co-operation here yesterday incorporating the design, engineering and manufacture of equipment for refineries, power stations, ports and jetties.

The agreement, which also calls fir production of industrial parts and exchange of raw materials, was signed by Chinese deputy Minister of Machine Building, Electronics and Indus-tries Gaous Ming Sheng and Iranian deputy Industries Mini-ster Mehr Alizadeh.

Under the accord, the two countries will co-operate in the inint manufacture of drilling equipment, paper manufactur-ing machinery, compressed reservoirs and boilers for sugar

"Holland was a very rieb country then, and people had the time and money to spend on flowers," explained Van Waveren.

As the passion for Tulips spread across Northern Europe, prices soared with the rarest types fetching thousands of gold florins for a single bulb.

Fashionable ladies in Paris sewed Tulip petals on their dresses instead of costly jewels, while in Holland a bulb sprouting red and white striped flowers sold for today's equivalent of $5,000 plus a horse and carriage.

London Stock Market Report

U.K. SHARES CLOSING NEAR DAT'S LOWS, TRADING DULL LONDON, NOV 9, REUTER - SHARES WERE CLOSE TO THEIR LOWS ON THE DAT IN DULL AFTERHOON BUSINESS, GIVING UP MOST OF THE GAINS SCORED YESTERDAY IH ANTICIPATION THAT GEORGE BUSH WOULD WIN THE U.S. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION, DEALERS SAID.
THE BUSH VICTORY PROMPTED PROFIT-TAKING AND BY 1534 GMT THE

FTSE 100 WAS DOWN 17.2 TO 1,823.4 AFTER A LOW OF 1,820.1 TESTERDAY IT HAD GAINED 20.9 POINTS.

*PEOPLE WERE EXPECTING A REPUBLICAN WIN, BUT TODAY'S ACTION

SHOWS THE MARKET NOW WANTS SOME SIGNS THAT BUSH CAN MAKE INROADS ON THE U.S. BUDGET AND TRADE DEFICITS," ONE DEALER SAID. FAILURE TO DO SO COULD WEAKEN THE DOLLAR FURTHER, HE ADDED. CONTINUING WORRY ABOUT THE WEAK DOLLAR HAS UNDERHINED WALL STREET RECENTLY AND COULD DEPRESS WALL STREET FURTHER WITH NEGATIVE CONSEQUENCES FOR LONDON.

SOME OBSERVERS THINK THE FEDERAL RESERVE COULD TIGHTEN
POLICY TO SUPPORT THE CURRENCY, WHICH WOULD LIFT U.S. TREASURY
BOND TIELDS. THIS WOULD HAVE A KNOCK-ON EFFECT ON THE U.K.

GOVERNMENT BOND (GILT) MARKET AND EFFECTIVELY CAUSE A DOLMMARDS REVALUATION OF THE EQUITY MARKET.

"IF GILT TIELDS RISE FOR WHATEVER REASON CASH WILL BE PULLED OUT OF EQUITIES AND THE MARKET WILL FALL," A TRADER SAID. EQUITY INVESTMENT HAS ALREADT BEEN HIT BY HIGH U.K. INTEREST RATES.

London Gold

LONDON, NOV 9, REUTER - GOLD BULLION PRICES CONTINUED TO PUSH HIGHER DURING LATE AFTERNOON TRADING, AS RENEWED MEAKNESS IH THE DOLLAR AND FIRMNESS IN NEW YORK FUTURES ENSURED A CLOSE AT THE CAY'S HIGHS, DEALERS SAIO.

GOLD ENDED AT 422.80/423.30 DLRS AM OUNCE, UP FROM AM

OPENING 419.40/419.80 AND LAST HIGHT'S CLOSE OF 418.20/418.70

TODAT'S WEAKNESS IN THE DOLLAR IN THE WAKE OF THE U.S. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION OFFSET THE DISINFLATIONARY IMPLICATIONS OF LOWER DIL PRICES. CONSEQUENTLY, GOLD MOVED BACK UP INTO ITS RECENT 420/425 OLR TECHNICAL RANGE, THEY SAID.

London Money Market

LONDON, NOV 9, REUTER - MONEY MARKET INTEREST RATES CONTINUED LITTLE CHANGED IN LATE TRADING, AS THE MARKET WAS UNAFFECTED BY THE DECISIVE VICTORY OF REPUBLICAN GEORGE BUSN IN THE U.S. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

SHORT-TERM ATTENTION WILL RETURN TO DOMESTIC FACTORS. TRADERS ARE BRACING FOR A FLURRY OF U.K. ECONOMIC INDICATORS NEXT WEEK WHICH INCLUDE PRODUCER PRICES, NOMET SUPPLY AND BANK

LENDING, AND AVERAGE EARNINGS FIGURES. STERLING WAS 0.2 UP ON ITS TRADE-WEIGHTED INDEX AT 76.9. IT GAINED AGAINSY A WEAK DOLLAR BUT WAS LOWER AGAINST THE MARK. THE KEY THREE MONTH INTERBANK RATE WAS STEADT AT 12-3/16 1/8 PCT.

Wall Street Market Report

New York, Nov 9, (Reuter): Wall Street stocks remained lower but were regaining some of their early losses. Daiwa senior trader Carlos Roman said, "The market is looking good. Traders tried to take it down in early trading, but didn't succeed and pulled back.

Analysts generally said selling related to a drop in US bonds and the dollar, and profit-taking on George Bush's win of the presidency. The Dow was off two at 2125 and gainers were closing the lead by declining issues. Trading remained subdued. Roman expected stocks to turn

Tokyo Stock Market Report

TOKYO STOCKS CLOSE NIGHER AFTEN BUSH WIN TOKYO, MOV 9, REUTER - SHARE PRICES ENDED THE DAY HIGHER AFTER THE MARKET'S FAVOURED CHOICE, GEORGE BUSH, WON THE U.S. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION, BROKERS SAID.

"AS BUSH GAINED POINTS, WE ROLLED ALONG WITH IT," SAID A TRADER AT YAMAICHT SECURITIES OO LTD. "BUSH WON AND MOST INVESTORS WERE EXPECTING THAT. IT WAS NOT REALLY A SURPRISE," HE SAIO. THE NIKKET INDEX ROSE 205.51 POINTS, OR 0.73 PCT, TO 28,212.78. IT PUT ON 140.91 POINTS ON TUESDAY.

A MODERATE 1.2 BILLION SHARES CHANGED HANDS TODAY AGAINST 900 HLN ON TUESDAY.

"BUSH, MORE THAN DUKAKIS, CONSTITUTES LESS OF CHANGE," SAID HARUO NAKAHARU, A VICE PRESIDENT OF RESEARCH AT PRUDENTIAL-BACHE SECURITIES (JAPAN) LTD.

THE REPUBLICAN IS ALSO PERCEIVED AS LESS PROTECTIONIST ON TRADE ISSUES THAN DEMOCRAT MICHAEL DUKAKIS, A REASON INVESTORS BOUGHT EXPORT-ORIENTED NIGH TECHNOLOGY STOCK TODAY AND TUESDAY. BUT THEY SOLD OFF SOME OF THESE LATER IN THE DAY ON A SLIGHT MEAKENING OF THE DOLLAR AND EXPECTATIONS THAT THE CURRENCY COULD

RISING ISSUES LEO DECLINERS BY ABOUT SEVEN TO FIVE. ADVANCES WERE LED BY SECURITIES HOUSE, NON-LIFE INSURANCE, BANK, PULP/PAPER, GAS, COMMUNICATIONS, AIRLINE, RAILWAY/BUS, FALL FURTHER, AND INSTEAD BOUGHT A VARIETY OF OTHER STOCK.

ROLLING STOCK AND CONSTRUCTION SHARES. THE DECLINING SECTORS WERE PHARMACEUTICAL, ELECTRICAL, FISHERY, PRECISION INSTRUMENT, RETAIL, CREDIT/LEASE, STEEL AND TRUCKING STOCK.

THE BROADER FIRST SECTION INDEX ROSE A HEALTHY 24.78 POINTS TO 2,170.51 AFTER A 16.29-POINT GAIN ON TUESDAY. "EVERYTHING'S BROADENED OUT ON THE BUSH WIN," SAID A BROKER. A MAJOR BROKERAGE WAS AN AGGRESSIVE BUYER TODAY, ESPECIALLY IN FINANCIALS, BROKERS SAIO.

Hong Kong Market Report

HONG KONG, NOV 9, RELITER - THE MARKET CLOSED WEAKER AS SHORT-TERM PROFIT-TAKING ERODED EARLY NIGHS INSPIRED BY GEORGE BUSN'S U.S. PRESIDENTIAL VICTORY IN THIN TRADE, BROKERS SAID. THE HAMG SENG INDEX FINISHED 4.04 POINTS DOWN FROM TUESDAY'S 2,587.02 CLOSE AFTER REACHING A NIGH OF 2,604.47. THE BROADER-BASED HONG KONG INDEX EDGED DOWN 3.03 TO

BROKERS DESCRIBED TURNOVER OF 638.63 MLN N.K. DLRS AS UNINSPIRING EVEN THOUGH IT TOPPED TUESDAY'S 403.63 MLN. "THE MARKET BREACHED THE 2,600 RESISTANCE POINT BUT WAS UNABLE TO COMSOLICATE ABOVE THAT LEVEL, " OME TRADER SAIO.

Kuwait dinar deposit rates seesaw, end lower

KUWAIT, Nov 9, (Reuter): Kuwaiti dinar deposit rates seesawed today but closed mostly below yesterday levels in fairly active trading, dealers said.

They said dollar selling early io the day boosted liquidity and sent overnight rates plunging to as low as three per cent from yesterday highs of 10 per cent. But by early afternoon they had swung back to six per ceot deals. Tomorrow-next business rose to eight per cent from five per cent early in the day and 7-1/2 per ceni yesterday. One-week traded at 7-1/2 per cent from yesterday's eight per cent.

In quiet trading the fixed dates were up to 1/2 point below yesterday levels at 7-1/4, seven per cent for the one-month, 7-1/8, 6-5/8 per cent for the two and threemonth, and seven, 6-1/2 per cent for the six-month. One-month husiness was reported at 7-1/4 per cent.

Surged

The dollar surged against the dinar following the victory of US Vice-President George Bush in presidential elections. But after opening at 0.28127/37 to the dollar from yesterday's 0.28026/ 36, the Central Bank dioar exchange rate was twice adjusted firmer to 0.28122/32 and 0.28117/27.

Commercial banks quoted spot rates of around 0.28127/37. Meaowhile, Saudi riyal deposit rates rose further in an active and oervous market today as traders bought dollars against the Saudi currency amid growing speculation of a riyal devaluation by end-1988.

Dealers said activity focussed on swaps as banks bought dollars in the forward market to cover themselves against the anticipated move, which would boost the value of the kingdom's dollar-denomioated oil reve-

"Everyone is buying dollars outright—the market is getting panicky," one dealer said. The spot riyal eased to 3.7514/17 to the dollar from quotes of 3.7504/ 07 on Tuesday.

Trend

Riyal deposit rates have shot up during the past two weeks as offshore and kingdom banks began to speculate against a possible devaluation. Dealers said corporate customers had joined the dollar-buying trend, boosting demand for rival deposits in an already tight market.

Spot-next funds traded as high as 10-3/8 per cent, up from quotes of 9-3/8, nine on Tuesday. One-week also rose sharply to 10, 9-1/2 per cent.

Third World claims its concerns shunted at GATT talks

GENEVA, Nov 9, (AP): India and Nigeria accused rich countries yesterday of diverting current global talks on trade liberalisation away from areas of special coocern to developing oatlons.

S P Shukla, India's ambassador to the annual top-level meeting under the Geoeral Agreement on Tariffs and Trade. said ocgotiations on tropical products, textiles and clothing have oot met Third World expectations.

"There has oot been adequate response in the areas and subjects of the greatest interest and priority to developing couotries, whereas io the so-called oew areas, the major participants have continued to exert strong pressure," Shukla said in a midpoint assessment of the four-year round of trade talks, which began in late 1986.

Negotiation

Trade io services, an important topic for developed countries, is the major new area of negotiation in the current round of GATT talks.

Efforts to enforce the removal of existing trade barriers and prevent the impositioo of new ones during the talks have "not really been effective," Shukla told the three-day gathering of members of the 197-nation pact that sets world trade rules.

He also urged a stronger commitment to preferred treatment for poor countries under GATT

Nigeriao de Owoeye said, "The right of weaker oations to self-defense under the GATT system is being gradually eroded, and this negative development is giving rise to serious coocerns among the developing countries."

But US representative Michael Samuels said exemptions from GATT obligations are "an old theology" that should not be encouraged.

"Experience has shown that trade liberalisation promotes rather than hinders economic growth and development," he told delegates.

Dollar drops sharply

Financial markets turn lower

Financial markets quietly cheered the US election victory of George Bush hut then lost ground today as investors began to fret over a sharp drop in the dollar and economic problems facing the new president.

"There will be no honeymoon in the financial markets (for Bush) because what's troubling the markets transcends politics. said Allen Sinai of the Boston Сотралу.

Tokyo stocks rallied on the Bush win, but Wall Street opened lower and the Dow Jones Industrial Average was down slightly at mid-morning. Gains

The dollar fell two pfennigs to 1.7660 marks, giving up recent gains. The benchmark 30-year hond fell two-thirds of a point to 101.08 as its yieldrose to 9.00 per

While Bush, much favoured in the financial community, won strongly as expected over Michael Dukakis the Democrats retained control of both the Senate and House of Representatives. The split decision heightened political conflict might hurt oipartisan efforts to eut the huge US hudget and trade deficits.

Earlier, Asian stock markets rallied on Bush's victory hut London stocks fell after the dollar began to slide.

Pressure The pressure on the dollar pointed to the no-nonsense mood in the financial markets. where there is a feeling Bush must demonstrate a strong commit-trade deficiis. "The incoming administration needs to start reassuring the markets quickly about what they're going to do," said one dealer in London.

ment to slashing the hudget and

The strong showing hy Democrats in the congressional elections, and Bush's vow to avoid new taxes, pointed to intense political conflict on key economic issues.

"The surprise politically was the increase strength of the Democrats in Congress," said

"There's a perception that Dukakis was anti-Wall Street and anti-hig husiness," said Jon

Groveman of Ladenburg Thalmann and Company. "So in that sense the stock market is better off. But there are still questions about how Bush can work with Congress. There are so many forces out there larger than one man who is elected president."

Victory

Since Wall Street believed strongly that Bush would win the election and this had already been discounted, his victory gave no cause for a raily. But some saw his decisive win as a plus.

"As Bush gained points, we rolled along with it," said a trader at Yamaichi Securities Company Ltd in Tokyo, where the stock market closed higher with the Nikkei average up 205.51 points or 0.73 per cent to "Any celebration (over Bush's victory) will be very hrief," said Newton Zinder of Shearson Lehman Hutton. "Then people will go back and worry about mun-dane things like inflation, interest rates, the dollar and federal reserve policy."

Larry Wachtel of Prudential-Bache Securities said: "The Dow range, and I don't see anything that happened in the election that's going to change that."
Ability

Wachtel said that in the aftermath of the election, the financial markets will assess Bush's ability to cut the budget deficit. "How he reduces the hudget deficit is a key factor," he said.

During the election campaign the hudget deficit was barely mentioned since it raised politically unpopular issues of raising taxes or cutting spending.

Groveman said that after the Bush victory is absorbed, inves-tors will take a hard look at the US central bank to see if it tightens credit in reaction to recent signs that the US economy is strengthening.

Ironically, the strong economy buoyed Bush's election performance hut now poses an inflation threat.

"People voted their pocketbook," said polling analyst Shel-don Gawiser of NBC, after the network found in exit polls that Bush benefitted from a feeling of economic well-being among Americans.

Jordan grapples with economy as Hussein seeks Arab aid

AMMAN, Nov 9, (Reuter): As Jordan grapples with an economic crisis and a run on the dinar, all eyes are on King Hussein, who is on a surprise Gulf tour in a reported quest for Arah

"People are hoping the king will persuade Ahu Dhahi, the Saudis, the Kuwaitis or whoever. to help their Jordanian brothers in time of need." a Western diplomat said.

King Hussein, with no senior officials accompanying him, flew to Qatar today on a previously unannounced trip after stops in Kuwait and Bahrain, and will also visit Oman. The 1978 Arah summit in Baghdad pledged to give Jordan $1.25 hillion a year for a decade, hut actual aid has dwindled sharply with only Saudi 'Arabia honouring its commitment fully.

Prime Minister Zeid Al-Rifa'i said this month Arah aid arrears equalled Jordan's $6.5 billion foreign deht.

Jordanians working ahroad, whose remittances are another key source of foreign exchange. reduced their transfers after King Hussein cut ties with the occupied West Bank in July. Officials deny there was a significant drop, hut bankers say the migrant workers, many of them Palestinians living in the Gulf states, have cut remittances hy more than half.

Jordan has scrupulously met its deht repayments and has a good international credit rating. hut progress has been slow on plans announced in June to arrange a $200 million syndicated loan led by Bahrainbased Gulf International Bank BSC (GIB) GIOB.BH.

Bankers say the kingdom, which has chronic trade and hudget deficits, needs a minimum of $200 million immediately to restore ehbing confidence in the

Assets

The currency has plunged since the Central Bank began a managed flotation in mid-October, losing a fifth of its dollar value at Central Bank rates and a third on the free market.

Moneychangers priced the dinar as low as 365 fils to the dollar today, compared to the Central Bank's 460 fils.

Amman's Stock Exchange is doing a roaring trade as investors shift out of dinars into real assets. "We have had heavy trading all week," a source at the market told Reuters. "The problem is it is a one-way market, everyone wants to huy."

He said 2.75 million dinars worth of shares changed hands yesterday, about seven times last month's daily average.

The government has banned imports for a year and hiked customs dues on nonessential items. It is preparing to cut development spending in its budget for calendar 1989, but has pledged to maintain subsidies on basic commodities. Goods

Prices for some imported goods have risen by up to 30 per cent and economists say it is unclear how the government can achieve its target of keeping inflation within single figures. "It's a crisis of trust in the people steering the economy and setting monetary policy," said one exchange dealer. "They have to be changed and money has to be pumped in.' Jordanians have long been ing which economists say does not match their country's meagre natural resources and limited industrial base.

We are talking of a deep change in consumption pat-terns," the Western diplomat

Banking conference planned

(OPECNA): More than 50 Arah banking institutions will attend a conference opening here on Nov 19 on greater co-operation among Arab banks.

The three-day gathering, sponsored by the Arah Banking Union in co-operation with the Central Bank of the United Arah Emirates, will also discuss prospects of co-operation between Arah and foreign banks.

The meeting, which will also be attended by foreign banks, will hear Dr Ahdullah Al-Ouwaiz, chairman of the Arah Monetary Fund, on barriers facing Arab banking co-operation and how to eliminate them:

Insurance company calls for rate hike

A KUWAITI motor insurance company has called for a rate increase, saying that current premiums set by the Ministry of Interior amount to less than what a car owner spends each year to have his car washed.

The current tariffs have not been set with the client's safety in mind, said Elias Bedewi, technical consultant for Gulf Insurance Co.

Property damages insurance should be separate from death and bodily injury insurance he said. Property loss claims are easy and quick to settle, but injury claims require more time, ### effort and documentation. Compensation

Insurance rates here have been the same since January 1981 even though there are now more cars and more numerous and severe road accidents, he said. The court's awards of compensation have also increased, he added.

An alternative to increasing the existing tariff would be to have property damage insured separately at an additional premium, Bedewi said.

"If we go back to the annual cost of insurance, we notice that it does not reach the amount paid for a car wash over less than 12 months," he said. Out of about 650,000 cars insured in Kuwait, more than 100,000 are insured with Gulf

Insurance Co. With an average annual premium for a family car at KDI4, the company's income from third party motor vehicle insurance policies is about KD1.4 million. But this line of husiness costs the company over KD2.5 million in claims, Bedewi

Damage to cars due to collisions should be surveyed immediately, assessed and sent for repair or the owner should be compensated for a total loss if the vehicle is irreparable or the expected cost of the repair exceeds the car's insured value.

There are cases where an insurance company has doubts about the cause of the accident and whether it falls under any of the policy exclusions. If the car was driven by someone who was drunk or without a valid licence instead of going to the police station for an investigation report on the spot, the driver settles the matter amicably with the other driver and reports the accident next day against an unknown".

Compromise

In such cases, the insurance company may repudiate liability altogether but, in the absence of evidence to support its decision, may offer a compromise set-tlement of 50 per cent of the actual cost of repairs, Bedewi

The main difference between Kuwait's insurance system and the American system is that here compensation follows courts zwards in most cases of death or bodily injuries. But in America the rating system (insurance premium) may change monthly.

NRI Bonds—1988 provide the answer.

NRI Bonds are 7 year cumulative U.S. $ denominated Bonds issued exclusively for Non-Resident Indians. Redemption on maturity will be in Indian Rupees. For convenience, the Bonds are in denominations of US $ 500, 1000, 5000 and 10000. The Bonds are being issued by the State Bank of India, the country's largest commercial bank ranking among the top 100 banks in the world.

HIGHEST RETURN ON U.S. $ DENOMINATED FUNDS IN INDIA

The Bonds shall bear interest at 1% above the rate applicable to 3 year FCNR US $ deposits in India, as on the date of opening of the issue of NRI Bonds. (At the prevailing* 3 years FCNR $ deposit rate of 10.5% p.a. the interest rate for Bonds works out to 11.5% p.a.) interest will be compounded half yearly in U.S. 8 and will be payable along with the principal on maturity in Indian Rupees. *11th October, 1988.

THE MONEY GROWS IN U.S. S

The investment in NRI Bonds is fully protected against any likely loss in the exchange value of the Indian Rupee vis-a-vis the U.S. Dollar. Bonds will continue to be denominated in U.S. $ till maturity even if you become a resident in India, gift them away or transfer them to another NRL

EXEMPTION FROM INDIAN TAXES

The income on the Bonds is totally exempt from income-tax and wealth tax until their maturity. What is more, these concessions continue to be available even if you become a resident in India prior to maturity and are also available to the transferee(s), survivor(s) as well as the donee

EASY LIQUIDITY PREMATURE ENCASHMENT FACILITY

Premature encashment of Bonds will be permitted on agreed terms and conditions after an initial lock-in period of 3 years. Thus investment is not only fully secured but after the initial lock-in period, it remains virtually on call.

LOAN FACILITY

Loan against the Bonds from banks in India would be available after the initial 3 year lock in period.

EASY TRANSFERABILITY

The Bonds can be transferred by a simple procedure amongst NRis. No permissions, clearances whatsoever would be required from any authority in India.

AN EXCELLENT GIFT FOR NEAR AND DEAR ONES

NRI Bonds can be gifted to a close relative (even a resident Indian) after a lock-in period of 3 years without any Gift Tax.

With this instrument, it would be possible for you to provide for a dependent resident in India.

YOU MAY NEVER HAVE AN OPPORTUNITY LIKE THIS AGAIN

This instrument is suited to meet the needs and aspirations of Non-Resident Indians like you. And the procedures are very simple. There are no hassles at all. A simple form to fill and the Bonds will be allotted to you within 60 days of the closure of the issue. You can invest as much as you want. There is no ceiling. Applications have to be made in the prescribed form and the full amount in US dollars is payable on application. Funds lying in FCNR/NRE Accounts in India may also be used for this purpose. You may apply in your own name or jointly with another NRI or jointly with a close relative resident in India with the arrangement for proceeds to be payable

Dear Junior Readers,

In our technological age, people are very interested in what we can do with science. Our world is full of wonderful machines that can do things people would never have believed possible even 100 years ago. But as fantastic as these laventions are. I cannot help thinking what a pity it is that art is no longer considered to be of much Importance. I believe that if someone has a talent for painting. drawing, making music or writing, then they have a very special gift whose place in life is just as important as a talent for scientific

For this reason, I am very pleased to see that there are still people who care enough about art to organise competitions like the one I gave you details of in Tuesday's Junior Times. I do hope that a lot of you will take part in the competition. Even if you do not win a prize, I am sure you will really enjoy creating your piece of work and, you never know, you might discover tolents you never knew you had!

ONCE upon a time, there was a little brown Field Mouse; and one day he was out in the fields to see what he could find. He was running along in the grass, poking his nose into everything and looking with his two eyes all about, when he saw a smooth, shiny acorn lying in the grass. It was such a fine shiny little acorn that he thought he would take it home with him; so he put out his paw to touch it, but the little acorn rolled away from him. He ran after it, but it kept rolling on just ahead of him, till it came to a place where a big oaktree and its roots spread all over the ground. Then it rolled under a big, round

Little Mr Field Mouse ran to the root and poked his nose under the acorn, and there he saw a small round hole in the ground. He slipped through and saw some stairs going down into the earth. The acorn was rolling down, with a soft tapping sound, ahead of him, so down he went too. Down, down, down, rolled the acorn, and down, down, down, went the Field Mouse, until suddenly he saw a tiny door at the foot of the

The little Field Mouse

The shiny acorn rolled to the door and struck against it with a tap. Quickly the little door opened and the acorn rolled inside. The Field Mouse hurried as fast as he could down the last stairs, and pushed through just as the door was closing. It shnt behind him, and he was in the room. And there, before him, stood a queer little Red Man! He had a little red cap, and a little red jacket, and odd little red shoes with points at the toes. "You are my prisoner," he said to the Field Mouse. "What for?" said the Field Mouse.

"Because you tried to steal my acorn," said the little Red Man.

"It is my acorn," said the Field Mouse; "I found it." "No, it isn't, said the lit-tle Red Man, "I have it; you will never see it again."

The little Field Mouse looked all about the room as fast as he could, but he could not see any acorn. Then he thought he would go back up the tiny stairs to his own home. But the little door was locked and the little Red Man had the key. And he said to the poor Mouse, "You shall be my servant; you shall make my bed and sweep my room and cook my broth.

So the little brown mouse was the little Red Man's servant, and every day he made the little Red Man's room and cooked the little Red Man's broth. And every day the little Red Man went away through the tiny door and did not come back till afternoon. But he always locked the door after him, and carried away the key.

At last, one day he was in such a hurry that he turned the key before the door was quite latched, which, of course, didn't lock it at all. He went away without noticing—he was in such a hurry.

The little Field Mouse

knew that his chance had come to run away home. But he didn't want to go without the pretty, shiny acorn. Where it was he didn't know, so he looked everywhere. He opened every little drawer and looked in, but it wasn't in any of the drawers; he peeped on every shelf, hut it wasn't on a shelf; he hunted in every closet, but it wasn't in there. Finally, he climbed up on a chair and opened a wee, wee door in the chimney piece — and there it was!

He took it quickly in forepaws, and then he took it in his mouth, and then he ran away. He pushed open the little door, he climbed out up the little stairs, he came out through the hole under the root; he ran and ran through the fields; and at last he came to his own

When he was in his own house he set the shiny acorn on the table. I expect he set it down hard, for all at once, with a little snap, it opened! — exactly like a

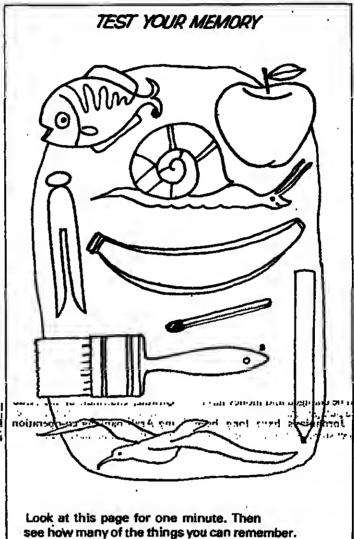

And what do you think!

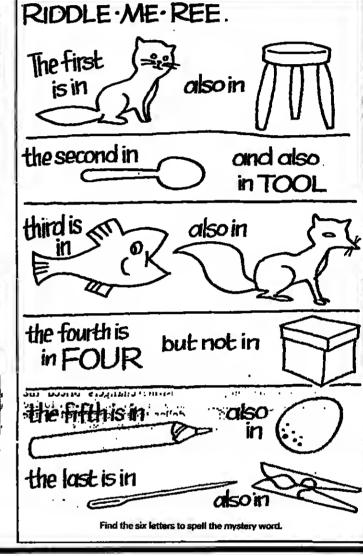

There was a tiny necklace inside! It was a most beautiful tiny necklace, all made of jewels, and it was just big enough for a lady mouse. So the little Field Mouse gave the tiny necklace to his little mouse-sister. She thought it was perfectly lovely. And when she wasn't wearing it she kept it in the shiny acorn box.

And the little Red Man never knew what had become of it, because be didn't know where the little Field Mouse lived.

AS VEGAS, Nov 9, (Reuter): Mike Tyson's estranged trainer says the heavyweight champion is spoiled rotten and in danger of becoming just another fat figh-

In an interview with Reuters, Kevin Rooney, Tyson's trainer for the last few years, jumped head first into the months-long battle raging for Tyson's heart, mind and mone

That fight includes flamboyant promoter Don King.
"You better watch yourself," Rooney warned Tyson.

"You're falling into that syndrome, the Don King Syndrome — fat boys that pass the title around so Don King can make money," he said, referring to King's promotion of less than terrific heavyweights in the past.

King, who was with Tyson at several fights in Las Vegas this week, has launched his own assault to win the affections of the champion, probably the big-gest individual money machine in sport.

King is locked into a dispute with Tyson's manager Bill Cayton over a promotional agreement Tyson is reported to have signed with King. Cayton claims King's attempt to move in on his fighter is illegal and has threatened legal action against the promoter.

Scheduled

Their dispute has held up set-ting the date of a fight between Tyson and Britain's Frank Bruno. The hout had been ten-tatively scheduled for mid-January but Rooney said he thought it would take place in February.

Rooney said Tyson belongs back in the gym and if he does not get back to training shortly he could find himself in trouble against Bruno.

Rooney's warning that Tyson could find Bruno troublesome is probably more of a scare tactic than an accurate prediction.

"I don't hear my phone ringing. I don't hear any calls from you saying let's get husy. I'm telling you now as your trainer that it's time. I'm telling you, not asking you. Otherwise your career is going to skyrocket

"1 see that you're 30-40 pounds overweight," said Rooney, who guessed Tyson weighed about 250 pounds (113 kg). "I've been telling you for two years now if you keep fooling around with letting your weight get like that it ain't coming off

Rooney said he was upset hy Tyson's closeness to King, whom Rooney accuses of using fighters just to make money.

Kalambay KO's Dewitt

MONTE CARLO, Nov 9, (Reuter): Sumhu Kalambay of Italy knocked out American Doug Dewitt in the seventh round to retain his World Boxing Association middleweight title yesterday after a punishing dis-play of speed and accuracy.

Zairean-horn Kalamhay avoided Dewitt's early onslaughts and used the ropes when necessary to deflect the force of the young New Yorker's

Count Dewitt, 25, stood up well to the punishment in the first few rounds but by the sixth the clean left jabs and fast right hooks of the 32-year-old Kalambay were beginning to count.

"I knew it," Kalambay's manager, Charles Brown, interrup-ted. "I could see he was giving great punches and from the fourth I knew Dewitt was going to go down."

Brown said the performance of Kalambay, known to the fans in Italy as Patrizio, proved he could pack a powerful punch.

"Everyone's been telling him how weak his right is, he's been working on it," he said.

He said Kalambay's next bout would be against Michael Nunn of the United States, the unbeaten southpaw who holds the International Boxing Federation middleweight title.

"Nunn is a much better fighter than Dewitt," he said. "But Patrizio is like good wine, he gets better with age."

A Nunn-Kalambay encounter would be the first step towards reunifying the middleweight

The third title, the World Boxing Council crown, is held by American Iran Barkley, the man Kalambay easily outpointed to win the vacant WBA title in Livorno, Italy, last October.

Giants slam Royals

GIANTS outclassed Royals 7-2 in a Little League baseball game over the weekend.

Royals looked strong in the first innings with pitcher Jason Zeplin holding the Giants, allowing only one batter to walk and striking out the next two batters.

Fought

The Royals were able to score two runs and take an early lead hut the Giants soon fought through pitcher Mako who did not allow the Royals 10 score again. Giants started hitting and the game went their way.

In an earlier game Mariners shrug off a strong challenge from Mets to win their match 14-11.

Tigers also had things their way this week, thrashing Cubs 22-9. Ridah Bebahani and Jacob Hashem hit homeruns.

The Astros and Blue Jays played a great game. The first inning ended with the Blue Jays scoring 7 runs. RBI's were contributed by Feras, Kareem and Masen. But the Astros didn't give up. Ziad Sakhleh and Justin Bolling were credited with 3 RBI's, and Grace Collwell 2, helping the Astros win a close game,

The game of the day, was the Athletics vs. the Cardinals, Cory Fox pitched a great game for the Cards, and did Dong Ha and Stanley Ehret for the A's. There were no homeruns in this game, just steady, one base at a time baseball. The Cards edged out the A's in the end, 11-10.

The Pirates and the Indians did a lot of hard hitting. Homerup hitter for the Pirates was Naseem Al Shaya. Bader Al Anzi, Nemut Minkos, and Ahmed Afani all hit triples for the Indians, leading them to 18-7 win over the Pirates. The senior teams look very good. Scott Forties and Humitaka Midorkawa, were the winning pitchers for the White Sox. Erik Fox hit 2 triples, drivingin 3 runs. The team is going to miss Grady Hahih, the first haseman for the Sox, who injured his hand and will be out for the rest of the fall season.

Rohby Bhatia and Jon Mc-Kasson pitched for the Red Sox. Rohby is getting tougher each week. There is always a lot of good hitting between these two fine teams. The White Sox hanging on to win, 16-11. Results

Shepherd wins Laser series

PHILLIP SHEPHERD, commodore of the newly formed Messilah Beach Laser Club, clinched the Autumn '88 Series this week by gaining a second place in choppy conditions in the first race of the day, making it impossible for runner-up Dave Clark to beat his best eight race total of 14-1/2 points.

Consistent sailing, including two wins and four second places, brought Phil this victory in a very compelitive 14-race Autumn Series. The novice's prize was won hy Chas Curtis, who had an eight race total of 21-1/2 points. The races have been held in conditions varying from almost calm to Force 6, which tested the skills of the thirteen helmsmen involved.

Jan Lammerts, who won three races, and might have won the series, was forced to retire through injury. The quality of the racing has also been recently improved by the arrival of Mike Hattemore, an ex-505 sailor, and Richard Beytagh, who up nil now has gained his successes in off-shore vachung.

The prospects are good for a very exciting series of races this week-end when Messilah Beach Laser Club hold their first Open Laser Regatta. It is expected that up to twenty Lasers could be lined up for the start of the first race. The event, which is spon-sored by K.M.M.C., will consist of three races, the best two to

Powerboat race to be held next week

By Gail Seerv

FOLLOWING the success of the 3rd Bi-annual Offsbore Powerboat Race, which was held on October 28, under the sponsorship of the Arab Times/Seyassah newspapers, a further race will now be held on Thursday, Nov 17, and entitled the Kuwait Local Powerboat Race.

With the Arab Times/Seyassah races, care was taken to ensure that the races were of a sufficiently high calibre to attract overseas entrants. This was achieved, and these new races are geared towards local entrants. though anyone from outside will not be barred from competing.

Ordinary

In order to increase the number of boats participating, the boats will be split into two classes. Class A will be for racing boats, and Class B will be for ordinary boats. No driver should be discouraged from entering a race of this type because he does not have a fancy new catamaran hull — the Dubai races have been won by fishing boats on more than one occasion, and the faster racing boats are often more vulnerable to sea and weather conditions than their standard coun-

Part of the problem was that immediately following the second race in June, a number of racers had bought new boats. For the most part, by the time these were ready, and had arrived in Kuwait there was little time left for testing or improvement before the race.

As in most speed-orientated motorsports, the racers definitely get a strong urge to carry on racing, and with the Gulf calendar of powerboat races currently featuring only three to four races a year, two of which are in Kuwait, any further opportunity to test themselves, their skills and their boats against the best local competition is eagerly accepted.

The impetus behind this race comes from Hossam Al Sayafe, who is organising and backing the event. "We were not happy after the last race because we all had so many problems. We wanted to have another race as quickly as possible just for fun. We plan to hold these twice a year, which together with the Arab Times/Seyassah races will make four races a year."

"The idea is to help to improve races in Kuwait." Sayafe added that he had found a great deal of support from government bodies, but none from KTV. "We want everyone to come and race," said Sayafe, adding that three cups would be awarded in each category.

Sayafe will not be racing this time. Before the October race be flipped his 24-ft. Sha'alli Tigercat, tearing a large hole in the fibreglass. Neither he, nor his throttleman Amjad Qutaineb was seriously injured, though Qutaineh had to spend a couple of days in hospital.

Sayafe is prominent in the fledgling Kuwait Society of Racers, with Mishal Al Jarallah. The main aim of the organisation is to promote the sport here and to ensure that it grows in a safety conscious and enjoyable way. The sport is struggling uphill in Kuwait, in comparison to Dubai where royal patronage and vast amounts of money ensure that there are ample rewards for competitors. The Kuwait events will almost certainly grow, so long as they continue to attract people who love to compete for competition's

It is still boped that a Gulfwide challenge can be developed, so that there will be a Middle East powerboat champion at the end of each year. The racers are currently planning to travel to Jordan for a special race to be held there on Dec 16, and intend to enter the next Dubai race.

late Celtic onslaught

BREMEN, West Germany, Nov 9. (Reuter): Werder Bremen of West Germany survived a late onslaught from Scotland's Glasgow Celtic yesterday to hold the visitors to a scoreless draw and advance to the quarterfinals of the European Cup.

The match, in which Bremen defended a 1-0 first leg lead, was a bad-tempered affair in which neither side were able to breach their opponents' defence.

Celtic's only real scoring came in the 61st minute when Mark McGhee scraped the bar with a swerving shot from 22 metres. Header

Werder's best scoring opportunities were confined to the first 20 minutes. A powerful header from Bremen striker Karlheinz Riedle was headed off the goalline hy Chris Morris in the 14th minute and Celtic goalkeeper Pat Bonner managed to smother a Mirko Votava drive from the edge of the goal area five minutes later
